

Florida Keys Vacation Packages

The Beach. The Sun. The Fun. These are the things that draw us again and again to set up vacations in Florida. If ever you are indeed planning a vacation in Florida, where oh where in Florida do you plan on experiencing the beach, the sun and the fun? To answer that, you may want to consider Florida Keys - Key West, Big Pine and the Lower Keys, Marathon, Islamorada and the very famous Key Largo (as was popularized in the song Kokomo by the Beach Boys)

Florida Keys vacation packages, aside from the usual lodging and transportation fares, they may include tours to cultural places, having eco-tours, snorkeling and diving tours to the only living coral reef in the United States (Side bar note: Did you know that when there is a full moon, it causes coral spawning on Florida reefs). The cultural opportunities are what make Florida Keys vacation packages different from other vacation packages in Florida.

Aside from this, the lovely Florida Keys also have special events that make it even worth it to have vacations there. During August, they have what they call a Lobsterfest. Florida Keys also have a Womensfest that celebrates music and mirth and they also have a Birding and Wildlife Festival.

All these and more if you book a vacation with your family or friends in the fantastic Florida Keys! Not only will you get the usual dose of beach, fun and sun, you will get to experience the richness of Florida's culture with all the festivals that occur year round!
